The Focus Workshop, Stop Motion Movie Making with Jodi Kriner

introduces retreaters to stop motion moviemaking: creating multi-scene movies with transitions, titles, credits, sound effects, and narration. Using the Stop Motion Studio and iMovie apps, retreaters will create a movie that reflects their views on a specific topic, theme or idea. The workshop will also explore the ways in which moviemaking can be used as a framework for a range of curricular needs and encourage active learning. iPads will be available to use, but you may bring your own. This workshop will span the three mornings of the retreat.

Workshop 1 – Creating Clay Monsters with Nicole Laponius

Retreaters will each make their own pinch pot monster out of clay, bake and paint them, using color to represent our inner turmoil and emotions, and finally, write a poem about them. We will begin with pinch pots, and then learn how to add details, features and/or accessories.

Workshop 2 – Comics as Reflective Practice with Rachel Branham

Comics are great for expression and story-telling, and also for reflection! Retreaters will learn about the language of illustrated text, create your own avatar, and write a comic that can be used to spur dialogue.

Workshop 3 – Vocal Health with Johanna Kimball

This mini workshop will show you how to care for your most valuable teaching tool – your VOICE! Our profession puts a high demand on our voices. It is important to know how to care for it and use it in a way that won't harm our vocal chords!

Workshop 4 – STEAM Space with Elizabeth Peterson

This mini workshop will provide you with the knowledge and ideas to get your own Makerspace started and off and running! Early in the retreat, we will explore three fun STEAM projects that will then be available to play around with in a "Makerspace" area throughout the retreat.
